

Storage Containers

Renting vs. Buying

Is a storage container right for you?
How long will you need the unit?
Will you modify the unit in any way?

Here are some things to think about

Rent

Buy

Try and see if a container is the right fit for you

Modify the container to your specific needs

Easy to get rid of the container when finished with it

Selling the unit might take effort but can make money

Good for short term storage

Ideal for long term projects

Monthly Payments

One time fixed cost

No maintenance required

Self maintenance required
